AMERICAN LEGION.

A movement is on foot to establish posts of the American Legion in Tennessee, and William J. Bacon, Goodbar Building, Memphis, Tenn., is State Secretary, and has the work in charge. The News is very much in favor of the movement, for after what they have passed thru the boys of the American forces of the World War should keep together as did the veterans of the Sixties.

A copy of the resolutions passed by the St. Louis caucus in session May 10, 1919, is before us, and is distinctively American in sentiment.

Inasmuch as the Town Hall at this place is the centre from which radiates the loyal utterances of Sequatchie Valley, and whereas it is the headquarters of Post 53, of the Grand Army of the Republic, an organization which stands steadfastly for loyalty and patriotism, it is proposed by the News that this hall be made the headquarters of the American Legion in Marion county, and that Marion county boys who served in the World War make this their rallying point.

The News is ready to assist them in every way possible, and in fact already has told the 18 soldiers of younger years who were here Memorial Day with the G. A. R. veterans that it would like to see them organized and holding themselves as a body ready to take up the increasing duties towards state and nation which will steadily devolve upon them.

And the name of "Post" which they have chosen hath a familiar sound to the ears of one who is proud to be a son of a veteran.

The G. A. R. will soon be no more, so let the American Legion step into their footprints for country and nation.

F. A. LIEUTENANT NOW RECRUITING

Lieut. Raymond G. Miller, F. A., in charge of the U. S. army recruiting party that is to be in Dunlap, Tenn., for a few days commencing July 8, 1919, tells of some of the attractions the army holds for young men who are able to get in.

The New Peace Time Army is entirely different from the old Regular Army or the Emergency War Time Army. It is a big workman's school where a man can learn any trade he desires from shoemaker to aviator mechanic, and at the same time he is learning this trade he is drawing a monthly pay check that ranges anywhere from $30 to $121.50, this money in addition to free board, free lodging, free clothes, free medical attention, free travel and free physical training.

Then, too, the man who goes in now chooses his own branch of service—thirteen to pick from—chooses what foreign country he wishes to see—eight to pick from—and all this time he is earning, and learning he is "lining his nest" for old age. A sergeant, after 30 years service is retired from the service and draws each month for the rest of his life a check from the Government that ranges between $90 and $100.

Any young man of good moral character, good physique and who is anxious to put in either one or three years of his life "guarding the flag" should speak to the Lieutenant or one of the sergeants of the recruiting party for more "dope."

Special to the News.

This is the first of July and it still rains. We had a big rain yesterday and it is still raining heavily. It has rained every day for the last week. The corn crop is good. Cotton is making too much stalk. I am afraid the boll weavils will eat it up, for there are plenty of them here now. I have three acres of sudan grass that is ready to cut, but it rains. I am afraid I am going to lose it.

I am always glad to get my paper and read the good letters, for I see the names of so many of my kinfolks. It makes me want to go and see them. I did aim to go back there this summer, but my wife's health is so bad I can't leave home.

"Cousin Dina," I sure did enjoy reading your letters. Would be glad if you would write me a letter and tell me who you are; also tell me where Saylorville is, for I never heard of that place.

I got a letter from J. B. Dame a few days ago. Jim has had a very sick child. He wrote that it was better, and thought it would pull thru all right. I want to go to see Jim in about two weeks.

"Miss Smarty," or "Dad," you change your name so much. I want to apologize for the mistake I made about the turnip greens. I am always glad to correct mistakes.

Come on, Sister Nettie, with your letters, for I enjoy reading them.

I guess "Lone Star," will have lots to tell us when he gets back to Paris. Hope to see lots of good letters in next week's News.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Battle Creek Man

Sees Some Big Things

A gentleman of this county reports a bullweed stalk on his farm in Battle Creek cove as thick as a telephone pole, or about twelve inches thick. He cited it merely as a sample of the exuberant vegetation growing on his farm this year. In speaking of snakes recently he says he killed a large blacksnake recently and twenty-six bluejays flew out of the body of the defunct snake. Later he reduced the number to six. It is believed by his friends that he is enjoying the inspiration of some of that mountain liquor which is reported to be distilled in that pleasant precinct of Marion county, and possibly under its potent influence his imagination and vision also, has been considerably enhanced.

BROKEN BELT

CAUSES SHUTDOWN

The Sequatchie Handle Works resumed operations Tuesday, after a shutdown of about a week on account of a broken belt. The main driving belt broke in two while going at a rapid speed and the ends catching in the drive wheel the belt was torn to pieces, so much so that it was necessary to get a new one. Order was sent to Boston, as that was the nearest point such a belt could be secured, no other cities having the size and weight in stock. It cost about $200 to replace the belt, besides the loss from a shut down of a week.

VERY ENJOYABLE

4TH AT DUNLAP

Dunlap, Tenn., July 5.—Dunlap had the principal celebration of Sequatchie Valley this year, and all roads led to this place. There was a very large crowd in attendance, with excellent program for the day and an enjoyable basket dinner. The ball games were very interesting, the Dunlap team defeating Bridgeport 7 to 2 in a full nine-inning affair. There was no disorder. A feature was special honors paid to returned soldiers.

J. D. Lay, one of the most progressive farmers of Marion county, kindly hands us an amount on subscription.

A subscription bringeth joy unto us like an oyster discovered in a church stew.
